I Too Had A Love

"Too Much Love Will Kill You" is a song written by British guitarist Brian May of Queen, Frank Musker, and Elizabeth Lamers. The song reflected the breakdown of May's first marriage and attraction to his future wife, Anita Dobson. It was first recorded by Queen around 1988 or before, and was intended to be on the band's The Miracle album in 1989, but did not make the cut due to legal disputes ...

All had been afraid they were too old. They all relished their independence and had come to terms with the fact that they might never find another mate. At the same time, they'd done inner work that enabled them to feel worthy of love, ready to accept a man as he is and be accepted unconditionally by him.
